

Mozley, Peter <peter.mozley@nmt.edu>

[faculty] Online Instruction & Spring Break Extension Message From President Wells

Wells, Stephen <Stephen.Wells@nmt.edu>

Wed, Mar 18, 2020 at 5:27 PM

To: All-Admin <all-admin@nmt.edu>, All-Faculty <all-faculty@nmt.edu>, All-Staff <all-staff@nmt.edu>

Dear New Mexico Tech Students, Faculty, and Staff,

Today New Mexico Tech committed to two important decisions:

First, we will be delivering both undergraduate and graduate instruction online for the remainder of the semester.

Second, we are extending spring break for an additional week. Classes are now scheduled to resume on April 6.

We are working out many of the details of this effort, and we will share those details with you soon, but it's important to me and the entire administration that you be informed of this decision as quickly as possible.

The extra week of spring break will ensure the necessary preparations to deliver the highest level of instruction possible, which includes providing full training for the online instruction system for both students and faculty alike.

While this is certainly not the optimal way to conduct our classes mid-semester, we are doing everything we can to allow our students to earn their credits, stay on track, and complete their studies this semester.

As always, check your email inbox and <https://nmt.edu/covid19/> for the most accurate and recent information.

Best wishes,

Stephen G. Wells
New Mexico Tech President

--

You received this message because you are subscribed to the Google Groups "All-Faculty" group.

To unsubscribe from this group and stop receiving emails from it, send an email to all-faculty+unsubscribe@nmt.edu.

To view this discussion on the web visit https://groups.google.com/a/nmt.edu/d/msgid/all-faculty/CAN%3DQGNDuUk1rjLp2vYP9ZRr1K_2Cv_vRjCENz%2BXD4otrvNQLSQ%40mail.gmail.com.